

§ 1326.100 Who presides.

- (a) The presiding officer at a hearing must be the Secretary, his or her designee, or another person specifically designated for a particular hearing or hearings.
- (b) The designation of a presiding officer must be in writing. A copy of the designation must be served on all parties and amici curiae.