LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SB 824, Committee on Governance and Finance. California Department of Tax and Fee Administration.

(1) Existing law establishes the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (department) and provides that the department is the successor to, and is vested with, all of the duties, powers, and responsibilities of the State Board of Equalization. Existing law authorizes the department to adopt regulations as necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of those provisions. Existing law exempts any standard, criterion, procedure, determination, rule, notice, or guideline established or issued by the department from the Administrative Procedure Act (APA).

This bill would, among other things, make various conforming changes consistent with that transfer of duties, powers, and responsibilities. The bill would also generally require or authorize, as provided, the department to administer its duties through electronic media, as specified. The bill would, on January 1, 2022, repeal the exemption from the APA described above.

(2) Existing law, the Marine Invasive Species Act, requires the master, owner, operator, or person in charge of a vessel carrying, or capable of carrying, ballast water, that operates in the waters of the state to take various actions to minimize the uptake and release of nonindigenous species. The act requires the department to collect a specified fee, established by the State Lands Commission, from the owner or operator of each vessel that arrives at a California port or place from a port or place outside of California.

This bill would additionally authorize the department to collect that fee from a vessel agent, as defined, acting on behalf of the owner or operator.

(3) Existing state sales and use tax laws impose a tax on retailers measured by the gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property sold at retail in this state of, or on the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of, tangible personal property purchased from a retailer for storage, use, or other consumption in this state. The Sales and Use Tax Law provides various exemptions from those taxes, including an exemption for food products, as defined, for human consumption. Existing law defines "food products" to not include medicines and preparations in liquid, powdered, granular, tablet, capsule, lozenge, and pill form sold as dietary supplements or adjuncts.

This bill additionally would specify that "food products" does not include cannabis, medicinal cannabis, or medicinal cannabis products, as defined.

(4) Existing law, the Emergency Telephone Users Surcharge Act, imposes a surcharge on each access line for each month or part thereof for which a service user subscribes with a service supplier in an amount determined by the Office of Emergency Services, as specified.

This bill would make various changes related to the administration of the act, including by requiring the Office of Emergency Services, within 45 days of receiving a request from the department, to provide the department the name and address of each service supplier, each service supplier's total number of access lines, for the prior calendar year, and any other information the department deems necessary to conduct its responsibilities under the act.

(5) Existing law, the Hazardous Substances Tax Law, requires the department to provide all information obtained under law to the Department of Toxic Substances Control. The law makes it unlawful for a person that has an administrative duty under the law to make known the business affairs, operations, or any other information pertaining to a taxpayer that was submitted to the department in a report or return required by the law, or to permit any return or copy thereof or any book containing any abstract or particulars thereof to be seen or examined by any person not expressly authorized by these provisions.

This bill would, among other things, require the department to additionally provide all information obtained under the law to the State Department of Public Health and would apply the confidentiality provision described above to any information pertaining to a taxpayer without regard to whether it was submitted to the department in a report or return required by the law.

(6) The Timber Yield Tax Law imposes a timber yield tax on specified individuals, including every timber owner, as defined, who harvests timber, as defined, or causes it to be harvested on or after April 1, 1977, and on every person who, without authorization, intentionally or unintentionally harvests or causes to be harvested timber owned by another. Existing law requires the interest for various underpayments or overpayments of the timber yield tax to be determined in accordance with federal law, unless the taxpayer is a corporation, for which the overpayment rate is the lesser of 5% or the bond equivalent rate of 13-week United States Treasury bills.

This bill would revise the underpayment interest rates for purposes of the timber yield tax to the amount determined in accordance with federal law plus 3 percentage points, and would revise the overpayment rate for all taxpayers to be equal to the bond equivalent rate of 13-week treasury bills, as specified.

(7) Existing property tax law requires every assessor to assess all property subject to general property taxation at its full value, as provided. Existing property tax law generally prohibits public inspection of information and records in the assessor's office that are not required by law to be kept or prepared by the assessor, disabled veterans' exemption claims, and homeowners' exemption claims, but requires the assessor to disclose information, furnish abstracts, or permit access to all records in the assessor's office to, among other entities, employees of the Franchise Tax Board, solely for tax administration purposes, and the State Board of Equalization.

This bill would additionally require the assessor to disclose information, furnish abstracts, or permit access to all records in the assessor's office to the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration. The bill would also make various technical changes to these provisions.

By requiring county assessors to provide specified information and record access to the department, this bill would impose a state-mandated local program.

(8) Existing constitutional provisions require that a statute that limits the right of access to the meetings of public bodies or the writings of public officials and agencies be adopted with findings demonstrating the interest protected by the limitation and the need for protecting that interest.

This bill would make legislative findings to that effect.

The California Constitution requires the state to reimburse local agencies and school districts for certain costs mandated by the state. Statutory provisions establish procedures for making that reimbursement.

This bill would provide that no reimbursement shall be made pursuant to these statutory provisions for costs mandated by the state pursuant to this act, but would recognize that a local agency or school district may pursue any available remedies to seek reimbursement for these costs.

The assessor shall provide the names of the seller and buyer of each property on which the comparison is based, the location of that property, the date of the sale, and the consideration paid for the property, whether paid in money or otherwise. However, for purposes of providing market data, the assessor shall not display any document relating to the business affairs or property of another.

(A) Upon written request of an assessee or the assessee's designated representative, the assessor shall transmit the information, documents, or records described in paragraph (1) by mail, or in electronic format if the information, documents, or records are available in electronic format or have been previously digitized. This subparagraph shall not be construed or interpreted to limit the authority of the assessee or the assessee's designated representative to also inspect or copy information, documents, or records described in paragraph (1).

(B) Information, documents, and records requested by an assessee, or the assessee's representative, shall be transmitted pursuant to subparagraph (A) within a reasonable time period.

(C) The costs enumerated in subdivision (a) of Section 409 shall not apply to information, documents, or records requested by the assessee or the assessee's designated representative if that information is transmitted in electronic format, except that any developmental or indirect costs to provide that information, including costs to acquire or compile data that is not required to be kept or prepared by the assessor, may be recovered pursuant to Section 409.

(2) After enrolling an assessment, the assessor shall respond to a written request for information supporting the assessment, including, but not limited to, any appraisal and other data requested by the assessee.

(3) Except as provided in Section 408.1, an assessee or the assessee's designated representative shall not be permitted to inspect or copy information and records that also relate to the property or business affairs of another, unless that disclosure is ordered by a competent court in a proceeding initiated by a taxpayer seeking to challenge the legality of the assessment of the taxpayer's property.

(f) (1) Permission for the inspection or copying requested pursuant to subdivision (d) or (e) shall be granted as soon as reasonably possible to the assessee or the assessee's designated representative.

(2) If the assessee or the assessee's designated representative requests the assessor to make copies of any of the requested records, the assessee shall reimburse the assessor for the reasonable costs incurred in reproducing and providing the copies.

The duty to collect the surcharge from a service user shall commence with the beginning of the first regular billing period applicable to that person which starts on or after the operative date of the surcharge imposed by this part. If the stations or lines of more than one service supplier are utilized in furnishing the telephone communication services to the service user, the service supplier that bills the customer shall collect the surcharge from the customer.

A service supplier that has collected any amount of surcharge in excess of the amount of surcharge imposed by this part and actually due from a service user, may refund that amount to the service user, even though that surcharge amount has already been paid over to the department and a corresponding credit or refund has not yet been secured. The service supplier may claim credit for that overpayment refund against the amount of surcharge imposed by this part that is due upon any other return, providing that credit is claimed in a return dated no later than three years from the date of overpayment.

SEC. 54. Section 41024 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

41024. Every service user in this state is liable for the surcharge until it has been paid to this state, except that payment to a service supplier registered under this part is sufficient to relieve the user from further liability for the surcharge.

Any surcharge collected from a service user that has not been remitted to the department shall be deemed a debt owed to the state by the person required to collect and remit that surcharge. Nothing in this part shall impose any obligation upon a service supplier to take any legal action to enforce the collection of the utility users surcharge imposed by this part. The service supplier shall provide the department with amounts uncollected which total three dollars ($3) or more on a cumulative basis with respect to a single service user along with the names, addresses, and reasons of the service users refusing to pay the surcharge imposed by this part.

SEC. 56. Section 41027 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

41027. Nothing in this part shall be construed as imposing a surcharge upon access lines or on the purchase of prepaid mobile telephony services if imposition of that surcharge would be in violation of the Constitution of the United States, the United States Code, or the laws of the state.

SEC. 57. Section 41028 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

41028. (a) (1) On and after January 1, 2020, the surcharge amount imposed by Section 41020 on the purchase of prepaid mobile telephony services in this state shall be collected by a seller from each prepaid consumer at the time of each retail transaction in this state. The surcharge shall be imposed at an amount as determined under Article 2 (commencing with Section 41030) on each retail transaction that occurs in this state.

(2) The amount of the surcharge shall be separately stated on an invoice, receipt, or other similar document that is provided to the prepaid consumer of mobile telephony services by the seller, or otherwise disclosed electronically to the prepaid consumer, at the time of the retail transaction.

(b) (1) The surcharge that is required to be collected by a seller and any amount unreturned to the prepaid consumer of mobile telephony services that is not owed as part of the surcharge, but was collected from the prepaid consumer under the representation by the seller that it was owed as part of the surcharge, constitutes debts owed by the seller to this state.

(2) A seller that has collected any amount of surcharge in excess of the amount of the surcharge imposed by this part and actually due from a prepaid consumer may refund that amount to the prepaid consumer, even though the surcharge amount has already been paid over to the department and a corresponding credit or refund has not yet been secured. The seller may claim credit for that overpayment refund against the amount of surcharge imposed by this part that is due upon any other return, providing that credit is claimed in a return dated no later than three years from the date of overpayment.

(c) (1) Every prepaid consumer of prepaid mobile telephony services in this state is liable for the surcharge until it has been paid to this state, except that payment to a seller registered under this part relieves the prepaid consumer from further liability for the surcharge. Any surcharge collected from a prepaid consumer that has not been remitted to the department shall be a debt owed to the state by the person required to collect and remit the surcharge. Nothing in this part shall impose any obligation upon a seller to take any legal action to enforce the collection of the surcharge imposed by this section.

(2) A credit shall be allowed against, but shall not exceed, the surcharge amount imposed on any prepaid consumer of mobile telephony services by this part to the extent that the prepaid consumer has paid emergency telephone users charges on the purchase to any other state, political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia. The credit shall be apportioned to the charges against which it is allowed in proportion to the amounts of those charges.

(d) A seller is relieved from liability to collect the surcharge imposed by this part that became due and payable, insofar as the base upon which the surcharge is imposed is represented by accounts that have been found to be worthless and charged off for income tax purposes by the seller or, if the seller is not required to file income tax returns, charged off in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A seller that has previously paid the surcharge may, under rules and regulations prescribed by the department take as a deduction on its return the amount found worthless and charged off by the seller. If any such accounts are thereafter in whole or in part collected by the seller, the amount so collected shall be included in the first return filed after such collection and the surcharge shall be paid with the return.

(e) For purposes of this section, a retail transaction occurs in the state under any of the following circumstances:

(1) The prepaid consumer makes the retail transaction in person at a business location in the state (point-of-sale transaction).

(2) If paragraph (1) is not applicable, the prepaid consumer's address is in the state (known-address transaction). A known-address transaction occurs in the state under any of the following circumstances:

(A) The retail sale involves shipping of an item to be delivered to, or picked up by, the prepaid consumer at a location in the state.

(B) If the prepaid consumer's address is known by the seller to be in the state, including if the seller's records maintained in the ordinary course of business indicate that the prepaid consumer's address is in the state and the records are not made or kept in bad faith.

(C) The prepaid consumer provides an address during consummation of the retail transaction that is in the state, including an address provided with respect to the payment instrument if no other address is available and the address is not given in bad faith.

(3) If an address is not available to the seller to determine whether any of the circumstances in paragraph (2) exist, the transaction will be deemed to be a known-address transaction occurring in this state if the mobile telephone number is associated with a location in this state.

(f) The surcharge amounts imposed under this section shall be remitted by every seller, except a service supplier, as prescribed under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001), along with a return filed using electronic media. The department shall administer such remittance and returns as prescribed under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001).

(g) Notwithstanding Article 1.1 (commencing with Section 41060) of Chapter 4, any seller, except a service supplier, required, or that elects, to remit amounts due under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) by electronic funds transfer pursuant to Article 1.2 (commencing with Section 6479.3) of Chapter 5 of Part 1 shall remit the surcharge upon prepaid mobile telephony service amounts due under this section by electronic funds transfer.

(h) The purchase in a retail transaction in this state of prepaid mobile telephony services, either alone or in combination with mobile data or other services, by a prepaid consumer is exempt from the surcharge if all of the following apply:

(1) The prepaid consumer is certified as eligible for the state lifeline program or federal lifeline program.

(2) The seller is authorized to provide lifeline service under the state lifeline program or federal lifeline program.

(b) For determinations made that are applicable to the calendar year beginning on January 1, 2020, and each calendar year thereafter, the surcharge amount shall be determined annually by dividing the costs, including incremental costs, the Office of Emergency Services estimates for the current fiscal year of 911 costs approved pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 53100) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code, less the available balance in the State Emergency Telephone Number Account in the General Fund, by its estimate of the number of access lines to which the surcharge will apply per month for the period of January 1 to December 31, inclusive, of the next succeeding calendar year, but in no event shall the surcharge amount in any month be greater than eighty cents ($0.80) per access line per month.

(e) The office shall perform a validation of the number of access lines using subscription data or other comparable data collected by appropriate federal or state agencies. This subscription data or other comparable data shall be used to validate the access line data required to be reported by service suppliers in subdivision (d).

(f) (1) The office shall notify the department of the surcharge amount imposed under this part, determined pursuant to this section on or before October 1 of each year.

(2) The surcharge imposed on the purchase of prepaid mobile telephony services shall be equal to the amount set forth in subdivision (b) for each retail transaction in this state.

(g) (1) At least 30 days prior to determining the surcharge pursuant to subdivision (a), the Office of Emergency Services shall prepare a summary of the calculation of the proposed surcharge and make it available to the public, the Legislature, the 911 Advisory Board, and on its internet website.

(2) For determinations made on or before October 1, 2019, the summary shall contain all of the following:

(A) The prior year revenues to fund 911 costs, including, but not limited to, revenues from prepaid service.

(B) Projected expenses and revenues from all sources, including, but not limited to, prepaid service to fund 911 costs.

SEC. 62. Section 41041 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

41041. (a) When necessary to ensure compliance with this part, the department may require any person subject to this part to place with it the security that the department determines. Security in the form of cash, insured deposits in banks or savings and loan institutions, or a bond or bonds duly executed by an admitted surety insurer, payable to the state, conditioned upon faithful performance of all of the requirements of this part and expressly providing for the payment of all surcharges, penalties, and other obligations of the person arising out of this part, shall be held in trust to be used solely in the manner provided by this section. The amount of security shall be fixed by the department, not to exceed twice the estimated average quarterly liability of persons filing for quarterly periods, or three times the estimated average monthly liability of persons filing for monthly periods, determined in the manner that the department deems proper. (b) If, when a person discontinues business, the department holds security pursuant to this section in the form of cash or insured deposits in banks or savings and loan institutions, the security when applied to the account of the taxpayer shall be deemed a payment on any liability of the person to the department on the date the business is discontinued.

(b) For purposes of this section, an error or delay shall be deemed to have occurred only if no significant aspect of the error or delay is attributable to an act of, or a failure to act by, the taxpayer.

(c) Any person seeking relief under this section shall file with the department a statement under penalty of perjury setting forth the facts on which the claim for relief is based and any other information which the department may require.

(d) The department may grant relief only for interest imposed on surcharge liabilities that arise during surcharge periods commencing on or after January 1, 2000.

SEC. 98. Section 41098 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

41098. (a) If the department finds that a person's failure to make a timely return or payment is due to the person's reasonable reliance on written advice from the department, the person may be relieved of the surcharge imposed by this part and any penalty or interest added thereto.

(b) For purposes of this section, a person's failure to make a timely return or payment shall be considered to be due to reasonable reliance on written advice from the department, only if the department finds that all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The person requested in writing that the department advise the person whether a particular activity or transaction is subject to the surcharge under this part. The specific facts and circumstances of the activity or transaction shall be fully described in the request.

(2) The department responded in writing to the person regarding the written request for advice, stating whether or not the described activity or transaction is subject to the surcharge, or stating the conditions under which the activity or transaction is subject to the surcharge.

(A) Before the department rescinded or modified the advice so given, by sending written notice to the person of rescinded or modified advice.

(c) Any person seeking relief under this section shall file with the department all of the following:

(1) A copy of the person's written request to the department and a copy of the department's written advice.

(2) A statement under penalty of perjury setting forth the facts on which the claim for relief is based.

SEC. 99. Section 41099 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

41099. (a) Under regulations prescribed by the department, if:

(1) A surcharge liability under this part was understated by a failure to file a return required to be filed under this part, by the omission of an amount properly includable therein, or by erroneous deductions or credits claimed on a return, and the understatement of surcharge liability is attributable to one spouse; or any amount of the surcharge reported on a return was unpaid and the nonpayment of the reported surcharge liability is attributable to one spouse.

(2) The other spouse establishes that the other spouse did not know of, and had no reason to know of, that understatement or nonpayment.

(3) Taking into account whether the other spouse significantly benefited directly or indirectly from the understatement or the nonpayment and taking into account all other facts and circumstances, it is inequitable to hold the other spouse liable for the deficiency in surcharge attributable to that understatement or nonpayment, then the other spouse shall be relieved of liability for the surcharge, including interest, penalties, and other amounts, to the extent that the liability is attributable to that understatement or nonpayment of the surcharge.

(b) For purposes of this section, the determination of the spouse to whom items of understatement or nonpayment are attributable shall be made without regard to community property laws.

(c) This section shall apply to all calendar months, quarters, or years subject to the provisions of this part, but shall not apply to a calendar month, quarter, or year that is more than five years from the final date on the department-issued determination, five years from the return due date for nonpayment on a return, or one year from the first contact with the spouse making a claim under this section; or that has been closed by res judicata, whichever is later.

(d) For purposes of paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), "reason to know" means whether a reasonably prudent person would have had reason to know of the understatement or nonpayment.

(e) For purposes of this section, with respect to a failure to file a return or an omission of an item from the return, "attributable to one spouse" may be determined by whether a spouse rendered substantial service as a service supplier for each access line subscribed by service users or a sellers collection from each prepaid consumer's purchase of prepaid mobile telephony services, or an access line or purchase of prepaid mobile telephony services to which the understatement is attributable. If neither spouse rendered substantial services as a service supplier, seller, or as a service user, then the attribution of applicable items of understatement shall be treated as community property. An erroneous deduction or credit shall be attributable to the spouse who caused that deduction or credit to be entered on the return.

(f) Under procedures prescribed by the department, if, taking into account all the facts and circumstances, it is inequitable to hold the other spouse liable for an unpaid surcharge or deficiency, or any portion of either, attributable to any item for which relief is not available under subdivision (a), the department may relieve the other spouse of that liability.

(g) For purposes of this section, registered domestic partners, as defined in Section 297 of the Family Code, have the same rights, protections, and benefits as provided by this section, and are subject to the same responsibilities, obligations, and duties as imposed by this section, as are granted to and imposed upon spouses.

(h) The relief provided by this section shall apply retroactively to liabilities arising prior to January 1, 2008.

Any proposed determination by the department pursuant to this section with respect to an amount in excess of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) shall be available as a public record for at least 10 days prior to the effective date of that determination.

Any overpayment of the surcharge by a service user to a service supplier or by a prepaid consumer to a seller who is required to collect the surcharge shall be credited or refunded by the state to the service user. However, if the service supplier or seller has paid the amount to the department and establishes to the satisfaction of the department that it has not collected the amount from the service user or has refunded the amount to the service user, the overpayment may be credited or refunded by the state to the service supplier.

A credit shall not be approved by the department after the expiration of that period unless a claim for credit is filed with the department within that period.

A person shall not be considered to have an impairment unless proof of the existence thereof is furnished in the form and manner as the department may require.

(2) A person shall not be treated as financially disabled during any period that the person's spouse or any other person is authorized to act on behalf of the person in financial matters.

(c) This section applies to periods of disability commencing before, on, or after the effective date of the act adding this section, but does not apply to any claim for refund that (without regard to this section) is barred by the operation of rule of law, including res judicata, as of the effective date of the act adding this section.

41101.2. Notwithstanding Section 41101, a refund of an overpayment of any surcharge, penalty, or interest collected by the department by means of levy, through the use of liens, or by other enforcement procedures, shall be approved if a claim for a

In addition, a refund or credit shall be made of any interest imposed upon the person making the overpayment with respect to the amount being refunded or credited.

The interest shall be paid as follows:

(a) In the case of a refund, to the last day of the calendar month following the date upon which the person making the overpayment, if the person has not already filed a claim, is notified by the department that a claim may be filed or the date upon which the claim is approved by the department, whichever date is the earlier.

(b) In the case of a credit, to the same date as that to which interest is computed on the surcharge or amount against which the credit is applied.

SEC. 106. Section 41106 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

41106. (a) If the department determines that any overpayment has been made intentionally or by reason of carelessness, it shall not allow any interest thereon.

(b) If any person who has filed a claim for refund requests the department to defer action on the claim, the department, as a condition to deferring action, may require the claimant to waive interest for the period during which the person requests the department to defer action on the claim.

SEC. 107. Section 41107 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

41107. (c) In the awarding of damages under subdivision (b), the court shall take into consideration the negligence or omissions, if any, on the part of the plaintiff that contributed to the damages.

(d) Whenever it appears to the court that the taxpayer's position in the proceeding brought under subdivision (a) is frivolous, the court may impose a penalty against the plaintiff in an amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000).
