Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 90

CHAPTER 59

Relative to Women and Girls in STEM Week.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 24, 2022.]

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SCR 90, Gonzalez. Women and Girls in STEM Week.

This measure would designate April 3, 2022, to April 9, 2022, inclusive, as Women and Girls in STEM Week and would encourage all citizens and community organizations to support the observance of California's Women and Girls in STEM Week by encouraging and celebrating women in the STEM fields.

Fiscal Committee: no

WHEREAS, Science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) are critical fields for the success of California's economy, innovation, and stewardship; and

WHEREAS, Many of the fastest growing occupations in the United States require some form of expertise in the areas of STEM; and

WHEREAS, STEM careers represent some of the highest paying positions in any field, thereby providing desirable career opportunities and real pathways out of poverty; and

WHEREAS, STEM fields contribute critical solutions and drive future innovations and directions for the state; and

WHEREAS, Preparing students for the STEM workforce is essential to fulfilling the demands of our 21st century, innovation-focused economy; and

WHEREAS, A significant gender gap exists in the participation of STEM disciplines and the STEM workforce; and

WHEREAS, Women earn nearly 60 percent of bachelor's degrees, but are underrepresented in STEM-related college degrees, especially in the computer sciences and engineering fields; and

WHEREAS, According to the United States Census Bureau, while women make up nearly one-half of the working population, they only represent 26 percent of the STEM workforce; and

WHEREAS, Women represented 34 percent of computer occupations in 1990, but that number declined to 27 percent by 2011; and

WHEREAS, Women in STEM professions earn one-third more than women in non-STEM-related occupations; and

WHEREAS, In California, the gender disparities among STEM fields are similar if not more pronounced. Only 15 percent of engineering graduates in California are women and only 15 percent of engineers in the workforce are women; and

WHEREAS, Despite underrepresentation in the STEM fields, there are many California women leaders who represent the STEM community and serve as role models for young girls preparing for STEM careers; and

WHEREAS, STEM fields are critically enhanced by the inclusion of women and the views and experiences women bring to these communities; and

WHEREAS, Today's women leaders in STEM stand on the shoulders of innovators that came before them, such as Grace Murray Hopper, a pioneer in her field who is credited for inventing the first computer language compiler; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, the Assembly thereof concurring, That the Legislature encourages all citizens and community organizations to support the observance of California's Women and Girls in STEM Week by encouraging and celebrating women in the STEM fields; and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislature declares April 3, 2022, to April 9, 2022, inclusive, as Women and Girls in STEM Week; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate transmit copies of this resolution to the author for appropriate distribution.
