Relative to All California Day.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

HR 67, as introduced, Ávila Farías.

WHEREAS, California, Baja California, and Baja California Sur were once part of the same region with Alta California, beginning in 1769. California, Baja California, and Baja California Sur share a deep historical and cultural connection with enduring ties through trade, migration, and shared environmental and economic interests; and

WHEREAS, The interconnected history of California, Baja California, and Baja California Sur reflects a shared heritage that continues to influence bilateral initiatives in various areas, such as education, arts, and community development, thus strengthening the bonds between their peoples; and

WHEREAS, California joined the United States in 1850 as the 31st state, becoming a symbol of opportunity, innovation, and cultural exchange due to its position at the crossroads of American, Mexican, and Indigenous traditions; and

WHEREAS, The relationship between California and Mexico continues to be significant, with shared history and culture and economic ties contributing to the state's identity as one of the most diverse regions in the world and with over 30 percent of

California's population being of Mexican descent; and

WHEREAS, An annual All California Day would provide an opportunity for residents of the state to honor its multifaceted history, acknowledge the contributions of Indigenous peoples and Mexican heritage, and promote unity among its diverse communities; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly designate November 9 as All California Day, a day dedicated to celebrating California's shared history with Baja California and Baja California Sur; and be it further

Resolved, That All California Day will encourage cultural celebrations and community events across the state to foster a greater appreciation of California's unique and interconnected history; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly transmit copies of this resolution to the author for appropriate distribution.
