

|->

Title 22@ Social Security

|->

Division 3@ Health Care Services

|->

Subdivision 1@ California Medical Assistance Program

|->

Chapter 4@ Prepaid Health Plans

|->

Article 1@ GENERAL PROVISIONS

|->

Section 53000@ General

53000 General

(a)

Health care services to eligible Medi-Cal beneficiaries may be provided through prepaid health plans. These plans shall: (1) Contract with the Department to provide, to the maximum extent feasible, the full scope of Medi-Cal program benefits to Medi-Cal beneficiaries voluntarily electing to obtain their health care services from the plan. (2) Share in the risk of providing health care services. (3) Provide readily available health care services and utilize preventive health care programs to improve the health status of their members. (4) Be encouraged to utilize new and innovative approaches in the delivery of health care services to assure that care is provided in the most cost-effective manner possible.

(1)

Contract with the Department to provide, to the maximum extent feasible, the full scope of Medi-Cal program benefits to Medi-Cal beneficiaries voluntarily electing to obtain their health care services from the plan.

(2)

Share in the risk of providing health care services.

(3)

Provide readily available health care services and utilize preventive health care programs to improve the health status of their members.

(4)

Be encouraged to utilize new and innovative approaches in the delivery of health care services to assure that care is provided in the most cost-effective manner possible.