

79203 Patient Counseling

(a)

Patient counseling shall consist of an interview or series of interviews conducted by the professional staff with the patient to alleviate or change personal or family situations, attitudes, beliefs, behaviors and communications which present a threat to the recovery or stability of the patient or the family.

(b)

Patient counseling shall address the needs identified in the individual patient's recovery plan.