

100028.05 Testing

(a)

The initial and retraining course of instruction shall include a written and skills examination which tests the ability to assess and manage all of the conditions, content and skills listed in Sections 100027.01 and 100027.02 of this Chapter.

(b)

A passing standard shall be established by the training agency before administration of the examination and shall be in compliance with the standard submitted to and approved by the approving authority according to Sections 100028.01 and 100028.02.

(c)

Public safety first aid and/or CPR training programs shall test the knowledge and skills specified in this chapter and have a passing standard for successful completion of the course and shall ensure competency of each skill.